LINDSLEY GETS POLICE JOB.

APPOINTMENT OF NEW THIRD DEPUTY SURPRISES TAMMANY.

Man Named by Commissioner McAdoo Is a lawyer and Once Ran for State Senator-- A Lieutenant in the 12th Regiment and Saw Service in Porto Rico

Harris Lindsley, a tall, broad shouldered Princeton man with a clean-cut face, was appointed Third Deputy Police Commissloner yesterday. He succeeds John F Cowan, who resigned. The appointment caused considerable surprise around Police Headquarters because Mr. Lindsley had not been mentioned among the possible candi-

His selection also surprised the Tammany politicans, but they were expecting to be surprised. They knew that the new Deputy would be a man of Commissioner McAdoo's own choice and that he would not be a

Mr. Lindsley is a Democrat, a lawyer and a soldier. He is 34 years old and comes originally from Nashville, Tenn. He attended Princeton College, but didn't graduate. He studied law at Columbia University in this city and at the Columbian University in Washington. Mr. Lindsley is a Lieutenant in the Twelfth Regiment. He was a Tammany candidate for State Senator from the Fifteenth district in 1900, but was defeated. He lives at 76 Irving place.

In announcing the appointment Commissioner McAdoo gave out a statement in which he said:

"I know Mr. Lindsley through friends and we came together about this matter of the Third Deputyship without the intervention of any one. I am quite sure he will make an excellent Deputy Commissioner and consider myself very fortunate in having secured his services.

"Mr. Lindsley is a Lieutenant in the Twelfth Regiment, N. G. N. Y., and in the Spanish-American War was commissioned Second Lieutenant in the Sixth United States Second Lieutenant in the Sixth United States Volunteer Regiment, under the command of Col. Tyson and Lieut.-Col. Andrew S. Rowan of the Seventh Regular Cavalry. He served at Chickamauga and Porto Rico. In Porto Rico he was placed in command of the district of Vega Baja. For his services there he was promoted to the rank of First Lieutenant on Dec. 2, 1898."

At the request of Commissioner McAdoo. Mr. Cowan will remain at Headquarters for several days to give his successor points in the duties of the office. Mr. Cowan will assist the new Deputy in handling the police trials on Thursday.

Commissioner McAdoo declined to say when he would announce the new Brooklyn Deputy.

MUST HAVE S. I. FERRY.

Lease Is Out on June 1-Proposed Stipulation With the Company.

The necessity for an arrangement to continue the Staten Island ferry service after June 1 next, when the lease of the ferry company expires, will be considered to-day by the Sinking Fund Commission. As the city has decided to operate the ferry itself as soon as it can build new boats the company will not apply for even a short time lease.

Dock Commissioner Featherson, who troubles the typewriter as little as any department head, has sent a communication to the Sinking Fund Commission urging the need of some immediate action. Mr the need of some immediate action. Mr. Featherson recommends that the St. George terminal, which is owned by the company, be purchased only on condition that the company shall go on operating the ferry until the city is ready to begin. In his report Mr. Featherson explains why the bids for the five new boats, opened on March 28, were so high that they had to be rejected.

on March 28, were so high that they had to be rejected.

"Protests," he wrote, "were made by practically all of the New York shipbuilding concerns, giving as a reason that the specifications discriminated against them in the application of the eight hour labor clause, and further protesting against the amount of percentage retained on monthly estimates of work done and the amount of bond required. These matters will be of bond required. These matters will be taken up with the Corporation Counsel in order to ascertain what changes can be made in the contract so as to secure for the city the benefit of competition, in addition to which certain alterations will be made in the general specifications which made in the general specifications which will cheapen but not materially modify the efficiency of the boats, and bids will again be asked for in the immediate future."

WOMAN LAWYER BEFORE MAYOR. Wants Women of Bath Beach Relieved of Street Opening Assessment.

Mrs. Mary G. Quackenbos of the Legal Aid Society appeared before Mayor McClellan yesterday as counsel for twentyfive property owners of Bath Beach, who wish the Mayor to sign the bill requiring wish the Mayor to sign the bill requiring the city to pay the cost of opening Bay Twenty-third street, between Benson and Cropsey avenues. The property owners are mostly women and Mrs. Quackenbos said they would be nearly ruined if they were assessed for the improvement. The assessment amounts to about $17,000. As there was no opposition to the bill the Mayor will probably accede to the appeal of the Portia of Bath Beach.

Hearing on East River Gas Bill.

Mayor McClellan will give a public hearing on the East River Gas bill on Saturday rning at 10 o'clock. There are now in the hands of the Mayor more than sixty bills passed by the Legislature, and on bills passed by the Legislature, and on which he is required to give public hearings. Because of the limited time he has been obliged to refuse to make appointments with persons who wish to see him regarding these measures. He will not discuss the bills except at the public hearings. No opposition developed yesterday at a hearing to add two Tax Commissioners to the present five.

SCHOOL TEACHER DROPS DEAD. Miss Patton, Long an Instructor in School 51, is Stricken in the Street.

Miss Annie C. Patton, who had taught in Public School 51 for thirty-three years, dropped dead yesterday morning while on her way to the morning session. She left her home, at 355 West Sixteenth street, and was walking along Seventh avenue when, at Twentieth street, she was stricken with apoplexy and died almost immediately. Members of Miss Patton's class who were on their way to school carried word to Principal Edgar Vanderbilt, who hurried to the drug store where the dying teacher had been taken. On his return he told the children the sad news, and Miss Patton's class was dismissed for the day.

Miss Patton began her work on Nov. 13, 1871, as a teacher in the primary department in School 51. All of the members of her class and many of the other pupils of the school will attend her funeral. at Twentieth street, she was stricken with Perhaps you've wondered how genuine Cravenette raincoats" can be sold at the low prices often quoted?

You won't wonder when you understand that "Cravenette" is not a cloth at all, but a superior process-so superior that it will proof even crepe.

But even the cravenette process cannot make over an inferior fabric into a fine all wool cloth, nor can it add to the wearing qualities; and as the process is applied to all sorts of fabrics, the maker of the cheapest sort of clothes may sell garments legitimately stamped "Cravenette."

Of course these cannot for one moment be compared with the fine raincoats we make of thoroughly tested all wool fabrics which have been rainproofed by the same process.

ENRIGHT BENEFIT SWAMPED.

THREE TIMES AS MANY TICKETS SOLD AS THERE WERE SEATS.

Police Reserves Called to Keep the Left-Outs Quiet, and They Had All They Could Do-Result, a Few Sartorial Casualties in the Jam About the Doors.

Fifteen thousand tickets were sold for the louble theatrical performance given yesterday afternoon in the New York and Broadway theatres for the benefit of the widow and children of Patrolman Hugh J. Enright. The two theatres have a combined seating capacity of 5,000. Inspector Walsh, fearing that there might be trouble, sent fifty patrolmen under Sergt. Bauer, of the theatre squad, to look after both houses. There were no reserved seats, so, to prevent a stampede when the doors were opened, the police made the people form nto line. Before the doors were opened at the New York the line stretched along Broadway and through Forty-fifth street to Sixth avenue. At the Broadway Theatre the line reached through Forty-first street and down Seventh avenue. The greater number of people went to the New York. At 1:30 o'clock, when the curtain rose, the house was filled, and Capt Hayes of the West Forty-seventh street station ordered the doors closed. There were then more than 1,500 persons, mostly women, holding timets of admission, still in Capt. Hayes had seen trouble ahead and had sent for his reserves. They arrived none too soon. When the women heard that the theatre doors had been closed and that no more would be admitted, there were loud exclamations of protest, and a rush was made for the door. The detailed police, the reserves and a lot of Headquarters sleuths jumped into the midst of the pushing, stringling, shrigking mob of women. sieuths jumped into the misstor the pushing, struggling, shrieking mob of women. Dresses were torn, hats knocked awry, and hair rumpled. The police suffered some sartorial casualties; a couple of uniforms were ripped, and Capt. Hayes had one of his brass buttons pulled off.

Bauer to announce that as the performance at the Broadway had not been so widely advertised there might be room down there for some. Two hundred or so made the experiment only to find that the Broadway was as closely packed as the New York. The rest of the crowd melted away until only about two hundred particularly persistent ones were left. After a wait of two and a haif hours the doors were opened, and in small batches they were allowed to filter into the theatre.

Commissioner McAdoo and Inspector McLaughlin occupied a box at the Broadway, and later drifted up to the New York. When Inspector McLaughlin, who had charge of the benefit, was asked how much would be realized, he said:

SAMPLE POOLROOM CASE. If Jury Won't Convict on This, Says Jerome,

We Can't Hope to Do Better. Henry Stedeker is being tried before Judge Newburger in the General Sessions on charge of keeping a poolroom at 65 Broadway. This case the District Attorney says he considers as strong as any he can hope Policeman Henry Butts of the Church street station testified yesterday that he played every day in the place from Nov. 13 to Nov. 19 last. He said that he was usually admitted by Stedeker, who was on guard at the wicket. One day Butts took with him Frank Morris, also of the Church street station, and Stedeker objected to letting Morris in. Butts's account of what follows was like this:

Butts—He is a friend of mine and plays the Leon Stedeker's.
Stedeker—Well, Leon has nothing to do rith this place. Butts—I'll vouch for him. Stedeker finally let Morris in, and they were there on the day of the raid, when, Butts says, he bet on Sea Robber and won $50. The cashier, however, held up payment and Butts made a row over it until Stedeker came up and asked what the matter was. Stedeker picked out the slip Butts had handed in and Butts identified it.

Dutts nad handed in and Butts identified it. Thereupon Stedeker paid him $50 out of the bank roll.

No defence was put in by Jimmy Oliver, and the case will go to the jury this morning.

RAIDS IN LAKEWOOD. Six Arrests Made in Alleged Speak Easy

Resorts. LAKEWOOD, N. J., April 11.—County officers with warrants charging violation of the Excise law descended upon several "Speak easy" resorts in the village early this morning and made six arrests. The raids were made as the result of evidence obtained by agents of the Law and Order League of Camden. Two barber shops and a restaurant were among the places raided. There are no saloons in Lakewood, and the places where beer and liquor have been sold without the formality of a license have done a thriving business. done a thriving business.
